Presenting my research on comprehensive neurofeedback training in the context of psychotherapy (subject and title of my dissertation) today at conference in California. Thank you, IUGS and hello. Karen Cochrane, Ph.D 2010.

Hi, All. My textbook "Anthem Critical Thinking and Writing Skills " has just been released. Check it out at

<http://www.anthempress.com/index.php/anthem-critical-thinking-and-writing-skills.html>

Or just Google Victoria Pontzer Ehrhardt, Anthem Critical Thinking and Writing Skills, and you will see it. If any of you work with students who are learning logic and critical thinking, take a look. It is also great for Independent Learners, as it has practices and tests with answers. So brush up on your syllogism skills!

Hi to all, Vicki Ehrhardt, PhD, 2008

This news article was released Monday the 19th of December on the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Homepage www4.uwm.edu/news/ regarding IU alum Dr. Beverly Belfer, Ph.D.,2004

Dr. Beverly Belfer, Ph.D, IU grad 9/04), who teaches guitar in the Peck School of the Arts Music Department (University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee), has invited all veterans to participate in a guitar class held at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesdays. With "guest status," those vets will not receive class credit but must be certified through the Military Education Benefits Office (MEBO), located in Mellencamp Hall, room .

Yazeed Arango, Ph.D July 2009, Doctorate in Education, will kick off his new Handbook on Assimilating and Acculturating the Hispanic into the American Culture at the Columbian Embassy on August 12th in Miami, Florida. Yazeed is a Therapist, with his own practice, who works in the Miami area.

Tim Lisante, Ph.D., March 2009, has now been appointed to the position of Superintendent of Programs for Students Under 21. He will be supporting and supervising principals and GED programs. Tim is a veteran of alternative school programs and has been a champion for our most vulnerable youngsters for over 30 years.

We look forward to the possibilities that lie ahead in our work in the Department and our collaboration...

Students with professional maturity and relevant life experience are the best candidates to pursue graduate studies.

Dr. Benjamin B. Weisman, Chairman is shown here with a 2010 graduate Dr. Savannah L. Schulerberg.

All relevant post graduate credits from accredited institutions should be accepted for transfer.

There is a need for graduate degrees that are affordable, are individually paced, possess academic integrity and allow doctoral and master's candidates to continue to meet their other obligations.

Students with professional maturity and relevant life experience are the best candidates to pursue graduate studies.

*I graduated from IUGS 2010 with my Ph.D. in Behavioral Health. What a joy to work with the encouragement and support of Dr. Stephen Daniel and my mentor Dr Alan Bachers. Everyone of the faculty and staff were wonderful to work with. It took me a long time due to life circumstances but I was so pleased that all my previous schooling was accepted. I was also happy to have my topic and research design on Neurofeedback Training so willingly supported. This is a great, innovative University that provides a degree recognized around the world! Thank you!

I just wanted to add my congratulations to IUGS for their FB page. I trust that the Summer Residency and graduation will be as successful as the one that I attended in 2008! Frank E. Wagner, Psy.D. 2008.

I got my Psy D from IUGS and I treasure the experience and Dr. Daniel. Lisa A. Shanklin, Ph.D., July, 2008
